

BLACKSTONE SCHOOLYARD

WHAT WILL THE NEW SCHOOLYARD LOOK LIKE?

We don't know yet! Each Community Schoolyard is uniquely designed by the community, for the community, with consideration for community context, history, culture, priorities, and need.

This spring, students, teachers, parents, and neighbors will share ideas to help design the schoolyard.

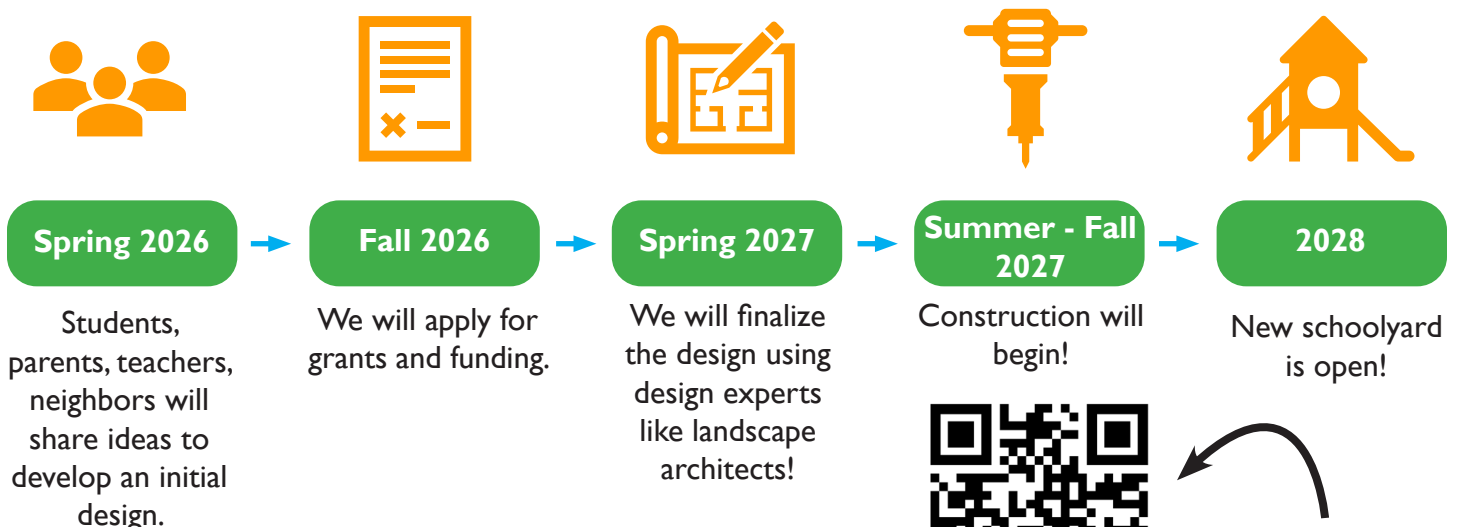

HOW CAN I GET INVOLVED IN THE SCHOOLYARD PROJECT?

- Participate in workshops, events, meetings
- Complete a survey (QR code below)
- Help fundraise, apply for grants, and secure funding
- Tell your friends, neighbors, and colleagues about the project!

HOW WILL STUDENTS BE INVOLVED?

- A student leader class of 4th grade students will be selected to lead the schoolyard design process.
- All students will be given an opportunity to share ideas through a survey!

WHEN WILL THIS WORK TAKE PLACE?

* Exact timelines are dependent on our ability to fundraise.

Before...

Park-like Places

Community Schoolyards function like parks. They are packed with trees, landscaping, play structures, gathering spaces, athletic facilities, public art, and green infrastructure.

Designed by the Community

Community Schoolyards are designed by the community, for the community, through a dynamic participatory design process.

...After!

Designed with Intention

Community Schoolyards are designed in a manner that improve health, combat inequities, and mitigate the impacts of climate change.

Welcoming to Everyone

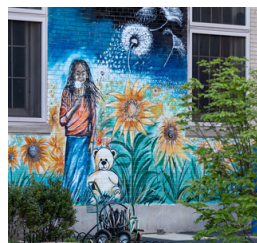

Community Schoolyards are shared spaces that are open and welcoming to the public.

OUR VISION

Every child has access to a park-like schoolyard space, designed by the community to improve health, equity, climate, and education.
